

A Century of Church Work in the West

The following is an outline of a century's work of the Anglican Church in the western prairies as given by Bishop Pinkham, of Calgary, on the occasion of the celebration of the centenary of the formation of the Ecclesiastical Province of Rupert's Land:

Rupert's Land

On the 20th of next October our Church will enter upon her second Centenary of work in this part of Canada, known during the first fifty years as the Hudson's Bay Territory, and as, if spared to that date, I shall have completed more than fifty-two years of the century in active and continuous work in Rupert's Land. I hope you will bear with me if I give you as a full account of its history and work as I can:

It was in 1815, one hundred and forty-five years after its Charter had been granted to the Hudson's Bay Company, that Major Semple, Governor of York Fort, when speaking of the desolation caused by a fierce struggle between the Hudson's Bay and the North West Companies, in one of which he afterwards lost his life, speaks in this way of the Red River Settlement:—"I have trodden the burnt ruins of houses, barns, a mill, a fort, and sharpened stockades, but none of a place of worship even on the smallest scale. I blush to say that throughout the whole extent of the Hudson's Bay territories no such building exists."

But a change was coming; five years afterwards the Hudson's Bay Company in London, in conjunction with the Church Missionary Society, then resolved to send out a Missionary, and the Rev. John West was chosen for the work. He arrived at York Factory in the end of August and reached the Red River Settlement at Fort Garry so as to hold a service in the large room at the Fort on Sunday. One of the settlers present spoke of the first Sunday on which he attended Mr. West's ministry:—"As the happiest day in his life, as it restored to him the blessing of public worship of which he had been deprived for thirty years." Mr. West made St. John's in the northern part of, Winnipeg, his headquarters; he travelled about as a Missionary and, during the following year, it was his privilege to assist one of the Company's Directors in the formation of an Auxiliary of the Bible Society at York Factory.

In 1823, just before leaving for England, he had the satisfaction of welcoming Rev. David Jones to carry on the work. During this year a small wooden church was erected at Red River, and in 1825 a substantial church was provided ten miles down the river. Day and Sunday Schools had been started and 169 boys and girls were on the Sunday School books. During this year Archdeacon Cockran arrived, whose name became a household word in the settlement. Then came Rev. W. Smithurst and then Rev. Abraham Cowley, afterwards Archdeacon. In the summer of 1844 the hearts of the faithful were greatly cheered and the hands of the Clergy strengthened by a visit from the Bishop of Montreal. He came in a canoe. His route lay on the St. Lawrence across Lakes Nipissing, Huron and Superior, and then through rivers rendered almost impassable by rapids; till, after thirty days of exposure and fatigue, he entered Lake Winnipeg, near the mouth of the Red River, on June 22nd. During his visit he had confirmations in each of the four churches in the settlement, the number confirmed totalling 846. The number would have reached 1000, if many of the candidates had not been unable to attend. Mr. MacCallum, who had a school at St. John's, was ordained Deacon and Rev. A. Cowley was admitted to priesthood. The Bishop spent seventeen days in the settlement, during which time settler and Indian vied with one another in their attention to him, presenting addresses of thanks and showing gifts upon him. He then returned to Montreal by the same route by which he had come. There can be no doubt that the report of his visit-

Province to Hold Rye for Re-Seeding

At a meeting of the executive council held in Edmonton on Thursday afternoon a report was submitted by Hon. A. T. McLean concerning conditions caused by the winds in the Lethbridge district. It will be remembered that the Hon. Mr. McLean personally inspected the blown out areas in the southern districts and because of his report the provincial government is arranging with the Dominion Seed Branch to hold all rye now in Alberta for re-seeding purposes.

It is understood that an embargo on the shipment of rye out of the province is to be enforced by the Dominion authorities, and the supplies of seed thus reserved for home use will be available for August seeding. The distribution of this seed will be conducted along the same lines as that of other grains during the past season. Under the terms of the existing legislation a total advance of $800 per quarter section will be the limit, and the amount of relief now to be given out will therefore depend upon the amount already advanced. It is expected that municipalities will administer relief, with supplies of rye seed, on the same plan as before, while the government will look after the unorganized districts.

tion, to the C.M.S. and other friends in England, led to the early appointment of the first Bishop.

In 1849, a Bishopric Endowment Fund having been generously provided by Chief Factor James Leitch, of Aberdeenshire, the interest of which, together with a sum annually furnished by the C.M.S., constituted a sufficient income, the Society nominated Rev. David Anderson, a scholar of Exeter College, Oxford, and tutor of St. Paul's Theological College, for appointment as Bishop, and, upon his acceptance, Dr. Anderson was consecrated by the Archbishop of Canterbury by Royal Letters Patent founding the See, on May 29th of that year, his Grace, the Archbishop being declared Metropolitan of Rupert's Land, which included the whole of the Hudson's Bay Territory. The Bishop preached his first sermon in his Diocese on August 19th, of that year. At the time of his arrival there were five Clergy at work in the Diocese, and after an interrupted residence of seven years he was able to report that they had increased to nineteen, some of them being Indians.

In 1864 Dr. Anderson returned to England, and in 1865 Dr. Macbray was consecrated by the Archbishop of Canterbury under Royal Letters Patent, and he forthwith entered upon his important duties with energy, skill and power. He saw the greatest need for Parochial and Diocesan organization. He held important conferences and these gave place to a Diocesan Synod.

The generosity of the Hudson's Bay Company in giving a river lot to every organized Parish in the Red River Settlement in early days has been of immense value in the existing Diocese of Rupert's Land. The position and growth of Winnipeg, soon after the formation of the Province of Manitoba, soon affected land values in the vicinity and helped the Bishop at St. John's to evolve a real Cathedral system, consisting of a Dean and Canons, most of whom are college professors, and also to have in the Diocese several Parishes possessing endowment funds, with other Diocesan advantages. In 1868 I was sent from England by S.P.G. to take charge of St. James' Mission, a good portion of which is now within the City of Winnipeg. I arrived on September 11th, and was then the youngest of twenty-two clergy in the great Diocese. Winnipeg, between two and three miles from St. James' Church, on the north bank of the Assiniboine River, had then a population of about 200. My Parish lay along the Assiniboine River as far west as Sturgeon Creek. During the Riel rebellion of 1869 and 1870, while I was conducting night school for the young people of St. James, I was rather closely watched and threats of imprisonment were in circulation, but nothing further happened.

It was in 1872 that the Dioceses of

"The Right of Way" With Lytell, Coming

"The Right of Way" in motion picture form, an adaptation of the famous novel by Sir Gilbert Parker, in which Screen Classics, Inc., presents the magnetic and versatile star, Bert Lytell, will be shown at the Empress Theatre, next Tuesday only.

As those who have read the book—and it is estimated by Harper & Bros., the publishers, that they number well into six figures—will recall, this is a stirring, picturesque and unusual story of Canadian life in Montreal and again on the fringe of the north woods. The action revolves chiefly about the character of Charley Steele, called for his dash and manner by his friends and enemies, both of which were numerous, "Beauty" Steele. The famous courtroom scene in which, after clearing a man of the charge of murder, Steele snaps at him, "Out of my sight—you're as guilty as hell!" opens the drama; and this same striking unexpectedness, this suddenness and almost stunning surprise is repeated in the various incidents which go to make up the novel which won for Gilbert Parker the title Sir Gilbert Parker.

"The Right of Way" promises to be one of the real screen events of the season.

Moosonee, Athabasca and Saskatchewan were formed; the two first named were filled by C.M.S. Missionaries, Revs. John Horden and W. C. Bompas, and their consecration took place upon their arrival in England. Archdeacon McLean was designated for Saskatchewan, but his consecration was deferred till the Bishopric Endowment Fund had been secured. He was, however, a man of boundless energy, as well as a powerful speaker, and he soon secured in England the required amount, and on May 7th, 1874, he was consecrated by the Archbishop of Canterbury. Dr. McLean soon made his influence felt in his great Diocese, which then included the Provisional Districts of Alberta and Saskatchewan, the total area being fully 300,000 square miles. He chose Prince Albert for his headquarters, and from there he travelled in all directions at all times of the year. He soon had resident missionaries and day school teachers among the Crees at Fort La Corne, Battleford, and other places in what is still the Diocese of Saskatchewan; and amongst the Blackfoot, Bloods, Peigans and Sarcee in the present Diocese of Calgary, as well as among settlers in the Prince Albert District, at Battleford, Edmonton, Calgary, Lethbridge, Macleod and other settlements. For the last few years of his life his health was not good, and he may truthfully be said to have, in the state of his health, worn himself out by his insistent labors. He died in November, 1886.

In the early eighties the Northern part of the Diocese of Athabasca was set off as a Diocese and called Mackenzie River; Bishop Bompas became its first Bishop; and the reduced Diocese of Athabasca received as its second Bishop the Rev. Richard Young, who had been for several years incumbent of St. Andrew's, and had held other important positions and was consecrated by the Metropolitan in Holy Trinity Church, Winnipeg. Then during the gold excitement the Yukon Territory was set off from Mackenzie River by the Provisional Synod and erected into a Diocese called Selkirk, but afterwards changed to Yukon, of which Bishop Bompas became first Bishop, and Mackenzie River received as its second Bishop Dr. Reeve, who was also consecrated in Winnipeg. Finally in 1902 the Diocese of Keewatin was formed out of portions of the Diocese of Rupert's Land and Moosonee, and received as its first Bishop the Ven. Archdeacon Lofthouse, who was consecrated in Winnipeg by the Metropolitan and some of his Suffragans.

In 1883 the Diocese of Assiniboine, afterwards changed to Qu'Appelle, was formed out of portions of the Dioceses of Rupert's Land and Saskatchewan. Canon Anson returned to England that year as Commissary to the Bishop of Rupert's Land for the new Diocese; and the next year, arrangements having been made for his stipend as Bishop, he was consecrated by the Archbishop of Canterbury before his return to Canada. Bishop Anson labored most earnestly for his Diocese, and to the great regret of all who knew and appreciated him, he resigned and returned to England in 1892. The second Bishop of Qu'Appelle was Right Rev. Dr. Burn, who was appointed and consecrated Bishop by the Archbishop of Canterbury in 1893. He died in 1896, after giving promise of spiritual leadership and other powers such as would have given him a high place in the Canadian Episcopate. Dr. Grisdale, Dean of Rupert's Land, was elected in 1896 to be the third Bishop of Qu'Appelle; after a most useful Episcopate he resigned in 1911 and, in accordance with the provisions of the Provincial Synod, the Synod of the Diocese of Qu'Appelle elected Ven. Archdeacon Harding to the vacancy. On the feast of the Epiphany, 1887, I, having become, in 1881, Secretary of Synod,

Chief Engineer of Saw Mill Arrives Here

Construction of Dams to Commence at Once

John Stewart, of Calgary, chief engineer of Col. Peuchen's saw mill company, arrived on Tuesday morning to supervise the construction of the dams and plant for the new mill. It is the intention of the company to commence the work on the dams as soon as the water in the river is low enough. Three dams will be constructed, one from the south bank of the river across to the island, another from the island to the north bank, and the other across the river a little further up.

There is already a quantity of machinery on hand for pile driving, etc., and as soon as conditions permit work will be started.

and in 1882, Archdeacon of Manitoba, and a Canon of St. John's Cathedral—positions held by me to the time of my consecration—received from our then Primate, the Archbishop of Canterbury, the offer of the Bishopric of Saskatchewan. The Metropolitan being in England at the time, and it being my desire to be consecrated in Winnipeg, the consecration did not take place till August 7th, when in addition to the Metropolitan, who was the consecrating Bishop, and other Bishops of the Province, the Bishop of Minnesota, whose visit in 1875 had inspired and encouraged all who saw and heard him, the Bishop of Rochester, England, and the Bishops of North Dakota and Huron, took part. On the Thursday following I had the pleasure of moving in the House of Bishops the erection of the Provincial District of Alberta as a Diocese to be called Calgary, and the proposition was carried by acclamation in both Houses, but it was not till March of the year following that the Primate (the Archbishop of Canterbury) gave effect to the action of the Provincial Synod by appointing the second Bishop of Saskatchewan (myself) Bishop also of Calgary. My Eastern boundary then being at Grand Rapids, my Western the summit of the Rockies, and my Northern boundary very considerably North of the North line of Saskatchewan. There was much travelling and organization to be responsible for, and as Qu'Appelle's Bishopric Endowment Fund was not completed until 1892, I could not till then vigorously prosecute the raising of Calgary's Episcopal Endowment Fund, and a few visits had to be made to England for that and other objects. Eventually the sum was raised and invested, and in September, 1903, I was in a position to resign Saskatchewan and the Provincial Synod which met that autumn elected as my successor the Right Rev. Dr. Nevenham, who at the time was second Bishop of Moosonee. At this meeting the Very Rev. Dr. Matheson, Dean of Rupert's Land, was elected Conductor Bishop of Rupert's Land, and in November he was consecrated in Winnipeg by the Archbishop and some of the Bishops of the Province, and the office of Metropolitan being by the Provincial Synod Constitution, tied to the See of Rupert's Land, he was, in 1905, elected Bishop and Metropolitan of Rupert's Land, with the title of Archbishop, the only other candidate being the late Archdeacon Pentreath; and in 1910 the General Synod elected him Primate of all Canada. It was of course the transfer to Canada of the Hudson's Bay Territory and the opening of the country by the building of the C.P.R. that led to the rapid growth of settlement in the prairie portions of the Diocese of Rupert's Land, Saskatchewan, Qu'Appelle and Calgary, and without any question, if there had been no war, Athabasca, as well as the Diocese just mentioned would have had a much larger population than at present.

Up to 1890 we were the Church in Rupert's Land. I think with deep thankfulness that during the year I was privileged to take part in a conference on the consolidation of the Church of England in Canada. Delegates, Bishops, Clergy and Laity came from Eastern Canada and met as we were assembled for a meeting of our Provincial Synod. That conference resulted in the formation of the General Synod of the Church of England in Canada with its Dominion-wide inclusion which at its first meeting elected our Metropolitan, whom Her late Majesty Queen Victoria had made a Prelate of the most distinguished order of St. Michael's and St. George, Primate of All Canada, with the title of Archbishop, and it was that Primate who drafted the Constitution of the M.S.C.C.

NOT ACCORDING TO NATURE

The children in an African mission compound had a fox terrier, with properly cut tail, which was a source of much wonder to the native boys and girls.

Finally one little black boy got up enough courage to ask a question:—"The tail of the dog, was it bit off, or drove in?"—World Outlook.

Macleod Farmers and Soil Drifting

There was an unusually large attendance of farmers at the meeting held in the Town Hall on Saturday afternoon to discuss some of the problems arising out of the present conditions in Southern Alberta. The meeting was held under the auspices of the Macleod Agricultural Society, and was addressed by Mr. E. H. Strickland, of the Dominion Government Experimental Farm, who gave an address on prevention measures regarding grasshopper and cutworm pests; and Mr. J. H. Murray, who gave an excellent account of what had been accomplished in way of prevention of soil drifting upon the farms of the Noble Foundation, of which he is the manager.

Mr. Strickland, dealing with the grasshoppers, said that the best way to get rid of them was by united action on the part of the farmers living in infested areas, and the best means of getting rid of them was by using the poison mixture recommended by the government, consisting of Paris Green, molasses and bran. The Dominion government keeps a stock in Lethbridge and when upon application from an infested area a supply can be sent that will cost about one half of what it would cost if the ingredients were purchased locally. Mr. Strickland said that there should be one central mixing plant as it was easier to handle in that way, and the poison should be spread at the rate of 25 pounds of bran to the acre, particularly looking after headlands, road sides and straw piles. The poison should be scattered broadcast in the early morning on a bright, sunny day, as the hoppers do not feed very much on dull and cloudy days. Application for this poison should be made to Mr. E. H. Tompkins, Board of Trade Office, Lethbridge.

Dealing with cutworms, Mr. Strickland said that the cutworm that did the most damage is the one that deposits its eggs in cracks and crevices of the soil in cultivated fields, from the beginning of August until the middle of September. It is very difficult to eradicate them, but one of the best preventions was to plow the land early and cultivate until the end of July and then leave the soil alone until the end of September.

Soil Drifting

In dealing with the question of Soil Drifting, Mr. Murray said that one has not to travel very far to see what a big problem this is. No one has reached a full understanding of it, consequently no one has reached a final solution of the question. While it is true that comparatively speaking only a small portion of the province is affected by soil drifting, yet it is very hard upon those who are called upon to suffer because of it, but then there are other parts of the prairie areas that are affected, parts of Manitoba and Saskatchewan and some of the Western States, but in most of these places soil drifting had been overcome, and he was convinced that it could be overcome here.

The condition in Southern Alberta is worse now than it has ever been and this is only to be expected owing to the continued cultivation of the soil, which has robbed it of the fibre that held it together. The question as a whole is a community question and calls for united and community effort as it is practically useless for a man to attempt to deal with conditions on his own farm if the man on the west makes no effort to hold his own soil. He (Mr. Murray) would not like to say how much of his neighbors' land he had cultivated during his experience.

After all it was largely a question of moisture, as land plowed in a dry year or in dry periods of the year will blow quicker than land plowed wet; it is not so much a question of vegetation as of moisture. In connection with soil drifting summer fallow methods are very important; plow your summer fallow early when the land is moist and in good condition. The disc harrow is a very useful instrument if used before plowing the summer fallow, and immediately after the plow use the packer. Don't wait a day or maybe two but follow the plow with the packer, either a sub-surface packer or with the double disc set straight and weighted if necessary. You have no idea what a good packer the disc makes if used in this way. After the land has been plowed and packed the less it is touched the better. On the farms of the Noble Foundation they had found the rod-weeder a most useful implement, it works under the surface, destroys all the weeds, yet does not pulverize the soil. Then after fall plowing they had used the spring hook harrow with about one-third of the teeth removed, which leaves the land in ridges. The hoe drill had also proved very satisfactory, in fact they were using it almost altogether, even on land that was baked, as it acted as a cultivator as well as a drill.

As a soil drifting preventative the sowing of fall rye holds out more promise than anything else. There is a ready sale for rye and the difference in yield makes up for the difference in price. It should be sown any time after July, and in districts where blowing is prevalent it should be sown not later than the first two weeks in August.

As a feed for horses they had found the straw very useful during the past winter, though one or two things should be guarded against. Horses should not be allowed to run to the stacks, they should also be given a little flax screenings occasionally and have access to salt and all the water they can drink.

If fall rye is used as a pasture it should not be eaten down too close; 10 acres should be sufficient for 25 head. Everybody should sow some rye, for in June it ought to be three feet high and makes a good wind break. By seeding early less seed is necessary, 30 or 35 pounds to the acre; early sown rye stools out, but the later it is sown the more seed is required. Rye does not need treatment for smut. It might be a good plan to sow it in strips, starting from the west side of the farm, but the strips should not be too wide, or too far apart.

So far as he was aware the supply of seed rye was limited; there is about 1500 bushels in the government warehouse in Calgary.

After Mr. Murray's address there followed a very interesting discussion. D. J. Grier was in favor of asking the government to compel every man to sow either rye or fall wheat to prevent soil drifting, he was of the opinion that if left to individual effort very little would be done, and every farmer ought to be compelled to do his bit. This was endorsed by W. H. Shields, who said that every farmer should be urged to sow at least 30 per cent of his summer fallow with some kind of fall grain.

A resolution was unanimously passed calling upon the government, in view of the special conditions prevailing in the district, to take immediate steps in the construction of the Lethbridge Northern Irrigation canal. Another resolution urging the provincial government to make a thorough investigation into the causes of these conditions and to pass such legislation that would give municipalities power to pass special by-laws to relieve the situation when occasion demanded.

Very great dissatisfaction was expressed upon what many farmers characterized as the indifference of the provincial government to the serious situation that many of them found themselves placed.

Brightening The Cemetery

A few of the ratepayers of the town have been busy these past few days trying to improve the appearance of the Union Cemetery, but owing to the difficulty in getting an easy and adequate water supply their efforts have been handicapped. It is their desire to get the town to give a water supply by carrying a pipe line from a point near the hospital, but the town is not able to do this at the public expense. However, Mrs. Alex Dunn, in the town office, has been interesting herself in the project and has been successful in collecting about $130. We are sure that it only needs to be known that some such movement is on foot when every citizen will be willing to help. The cemetery needs attention, and it could be kept in order much easier, and could be made much brighter with shrubs and flowers if there was a constant water supply—So will everybody please help, and either send or give your contribution to Mrs. Dunn at the Town Office.

A Bad Boy

All the children from seven to seventy will be at the Empress Theatre on Monday next, when our old friend, Peck's Bad Boy, makes his appearance, surrounded by a bevy of pretty girls and funny comedians.

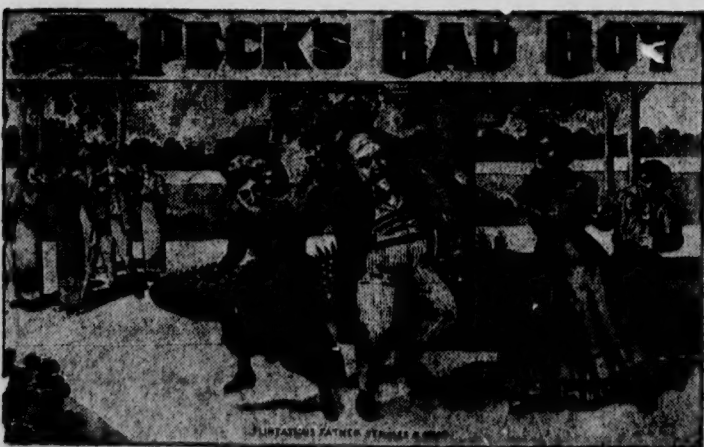

Of all the boy characters ever in print or on the stage, Peck's Bad Boy remains, after twenty-five years, the truest type of the real American boy ever conceived.

The play has been carefully rewritten and brought up to date, and is said to be the funniest version ever provided. Master Henry is surrounded by a capable company of singers, dancers and funny comedians. Twenty of the latest singing and dancing numbers of the tuneful whistling kind are interspersed through the comedy.

Don't forget to bring the children. Remember this is the one play they never forget.

Little Mary's father had denied her a pleasure which she had expected to enjoy. That night when she said her prayers at her mother's knee she concluded with this petition:

"And please don't give my papa any more children. He don't know how to treat those he's got now."

Fifty-one girls and fifty-one girls are registered at the Edmonton convention of the U.F.A. embracing the young farm people of the province being held this week in the capital city, according to H. Higginbotham reports that delegates were present from all parts of the province, the representation from the drought district being especially noticeable. These delegates were enabled to attend owing to a fund subscribed by U.F.A. locals all over the province and from a grant by the central executive. By this means all travelling expenses of the juniors were met.

A rather unique service was held in the Methodist Church, Macleod, Sunday morning when the morning hour was taken up with the reports from the delegates who attended the Alberta Conference, in Edmonton. The Conference was brought to the people in these reports, and they now realize what an amount of work is done by the Annual conference, also what a delegate is expected to do. The reports dealt with the Conference from the opening to the finish, telling of the various departments of work each one has to look after. The amounts of money received and spent, the members received, both old and young peoples departments, with the increase or otherwise. The delegates are complimented on the way the reports were presented and with what reality it was brought home to the people.

In the evening Rev. W. A. Lewis preached to the U.F.A. on the subject of the Farmer Prophet, Elisha, as he received the mantle and told to go forth and tell the people he was sent by the Lord, and was his Prophet. A good congregation listened to this message, and the music as provided by the choir under the leadership of J. T. Doney.

Pincher Creek News Items

The weather continues dry and rain is badly needed. The grain crops are doing fairly well, but the hay growers are beginning to feel nervous.

The road from town to the Railway Station is being regraded. The work is in very competent hands and when completed will be of great advantage to the travelling public.

The Railway Station displays a notice: "Smoking Strictly Prohibited." This caution is not to be honored more in the breach than the observance. Such at least is the opinion of the genial night telegraph operator, Mr. Weatherup. The other operator, Mr. Dupont, is from Missouri and requested Mr. Weatherup to "show me." Shortly before midnight, the 17th instant, Mr. Weatherup proceeded to do so by exerting pressure on Mr. Dupont's windpipe, through the expedient known to clerics as "laying on of hands." Mr. Dupont, having got his "wind up" and although claiming to be a peaceable man continued the argument by attempting to break a meat hook on Mr. Weatherup's head, which he alleged was not done accidentally, but purposely. After a protracted study in astronomy, Mr. Weatherup gave Mr. Dupont into the hands of the myrmidons of the law. Mr. Thompson, Barrister of Pincher Creek, was engaged for the prosecution and Mr. J. D. Matheson was hurriedly summoned from Macleod for the defence. The case was tried summarily before J.P.'s Lindsay and Henderson on the 18th instant. Mr. Matheson for the accused, argued that the complainant by unlawfully assaulting the accused in the first instance had given sufficient provocation to justify the subsequent assault, and that the disparity in weight of the combatants (115 lbs. vs. 160 lbs.) justified the accused in resorting to the use of weapons by way of handicap. Mr. Thompson strongly argued for a conviction. Mr. Lindsay, as presiding J.P., after reprimanding the complainant for laying hands wrongfully on the accused, delivered judgment that accused had in the opinion of the Court, somewhat exceeded what the provocation he had sustained justified and fined him $10.00 and costs which accused promptly paid. As the offence charged when summarily tried, carries a punishment of $200.00 fine or 6 months imprisonment or both, the accused obviously put up an able defence.

FALL WHEAT

We are informed by Mr. D. J. Grier that he intends to sow quite a quantity of fall wheat this year, and he reminds us that there is a car of fall wheat at the Macleod Flouring Mills which is being held for seed. The Wheat Board has been communicated with to see if this can be sold at seed prices. Anyway, farmers intending to sow wheat this fall should avail themselves of this car while it lasts.

Tense Scene in Canadian Court

Dramatic Incident of Murder Acquittal Opens "The Right of Way," Starring Lytell

In Bert Lytell's latest starring vehicle, "The Right of Way," adapted from Sir Gilbert Parker's great novel and made into pictures by Screen Classics, Inc., the courtroom scene, the initial dramatic incident in the story, has been reproduced faithfully in accordance with the arrangement and procedure of a Canadian tribunal of justice.

This as may be observed at the Empress Theatre, where the picture shows next Tuesday only, differs in many unusual respects from American courts. Under the technical direction of A. P. Shulter, of the Screen Classics, Inc., staff, a setting eighty feet long and half as wide was built. One variation from American arrangement is the location of the prisoner's dock. Instead of being elevated and placed close to the judge's bench as in this country, it is situated in the center of the room just inside the court railing.

When the prisoner is seated he is the center attraction of the entire courtroom, being in full view from every side of judge, jury, attorneys and spectators. The room itself is very plain. The walls are bare of pictures and ornaments. In line and color the effect is notably dignified and severe. Only a few symbols of justice indicate the character of the setting. Another interesting detail disclosed in the studied efforts to reproduce faithfully the Canadian courtroom is that the lawyers and clerk as well as the judge wear the flowing robes characteristic of ancient English courts. In this country the practice has been discontinued except in the case of the judge.

It is in this setting that the dramatic incident opening Sir Gilbert Parker's novel takes place. Here "Beauty" Steele (played by Mr. Lytell), the most noted wit and lawyer of the Dominion in his day, defends a man charged with murder. By his strange eloquence he persuades the jury from what seemed certain conviction of guilt to acquittal. At the height of Steele's triumph the accused comes to thank him, but is waved away. "Out of my sight, you're guilty as hell!" Steele exclaims. More than three hundred extra people were used as spectators in this dramatic setting. Most of them were in the characters of rough log drivers and lumbermen from the Canadian north, but there was a sprinkling of men and women in the fashions of the "eighties" as the scene is laid in the prosperous but, at the time, rather small town of Montreal.

Jack Dillon, who is directing Bert Lytell in the picture expected to spend an entire week in the courtroom scenes. The novel was adapted by June Mathis from the story that won Sir Gilbert Parker his knighthood. Robert Kurrie is photographing the picture and the entire production is under the general supervision of Maxwell Karger, Director General. A most distinguished cast is engaged with Bert Lytell in the production. Carmen Phillips, Gibson Gowland, Antrim Short, Virginia Caldwell, Henry Harmon and Larry Steele are also in the cast.

Buchanan Urges Irrigation Work

OTTAWA, June 18.—During the discussion of Hon. Meighen's bill to amend the Irrigation Act, the contention of the settlers in the Lethbridge district came under consideration.

The minister pointed out the serious situation facing the people in the dry belt in Alberta, and said he could understand the concern felt for them by W. A. Buchanan, the member for Lethbridge. He added: "So far as the government of Canada is concerned, I do not know that all feel the same intimate sympathy with the people that I do. I would feel like going the extreme limit that the federal government could possibly go in justice to the rest of the Dominion in seeking to co-operate with the provincial authorities to relieve the situation, but I think, the line having been already drawn, and there being no possibility of doubt of the wisdom of the point at which it is drawn, we have some proposal from the local authorities looking for further advance."

Need Special Attention

W. A. Buchanan had taken occasion to call to the attention of the house the condition of the settlers in the territory affected by the bill. He said the people there feel that they should be treated almost as were those who had gone through the Halifax explosion of a few years ago. All they had been blown away. There has been a crop failure for the past three years, and all their possessions are heavily mortgaged in consequence. There is no relief in sight for them, except through the development of irrigation, which would make the district and the people worth while to this country.

Their chief trouble at present is to dispose of the irrigation bonds, and he said there would have to be co-operation in this regard between the province and the Dominion in order to save the situation.

Land Is Very Rich

There is some of the richest land in the west around Lethbridge, which he invited the members of the opposition to come and see, to which Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King responded, "I will be there."

D. D. McKenzie thought the comparison with the Halifax disaster was not warranted. It was Providence which produced the situation in the west, while he ascribed the Halifax disaster to the stupidity of the people sent by the government to handle the business of the harbor there.

He said if the government was encouraging settlers to go into the western districts under discussion, we should see that everything possible is done for them.

If the lands were sold by private companies as a matter of speculation, he did not see why the government should undertake to make them habitable when it has better lands of its own fit for cultivation.

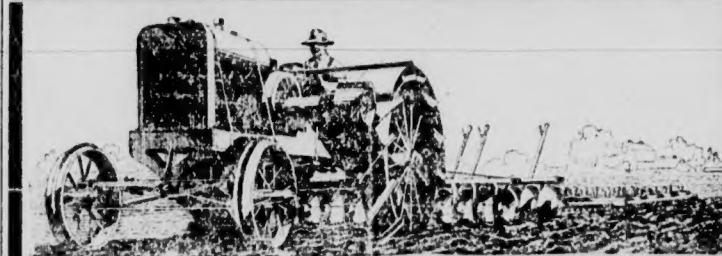

Mr. Buchanan said it was not a question of disposing of lands now taken up, but of helping the people who have had homes there for fifteen years or more, and are now stranded because they cannot get a crop. They are ready to bond all they own to raise money for irrigation. There is no wild land in the district, and farmers are settled on every acre.

The matter should be treated on the same basis as the hydro-electric development in Ontario.—Calgary Herald.

Fire at the Power House

At about seven o'clock on Tuesday morning the town was aroused by the toot of the fire whistle, when it was found that the power house was on fire. At first it looked as though there was going to be a serious blaze, but luckily the damage was confined to the roof. The prompt arrival of the fire brigade and the strenuous efforts of the employees prevented the flames from spreading and the fire was extinguished without any serious damage to the plant, although the power was shut off for about half a day. It is fortunate for the town that through the efforts of Engineer Pearson that the property was insured about six weeks ago and the damage to the building is covered by insurance.

It is thought that the fire was caused by spark from the chimney getting down between the roof and the ceiling of the building, as the roof was well alight before it was discovered.

Death of Ralph Withington Griffin

Mr. and Mrs. J. Griffin, of Pearce, have been called upon to mourn the death of their son Ralph, who passed away on Monday last at the age of 32. The Griffin family have lived in the Pearce district for the past twelve years, where they are most highly respected. Some time ago Ralph was stricken with a stroke of paralysis, from which he never fully recovered, and although his death was to some extent expected, it never the less came as a shock to his aged parents.

The funeral took place on Tuesday at 2 o'clock at the Methodist church, and from there to the Union Cemetery, conducted by the pastor, Rev. W. A. Lewis.

Macleod Lady Commissioned to Draw Up Laws

ST. JOHN, N.B., June 19.—At today's session of the National Council of Women it was announced that Mrs. O. C. Edwards, of Macleod, Alberta, had been commissioned to draw up laws for women and children in Alberta.

A resolution that the five-year term limit for officers be not applied to the corresponding secretary was moved by Mrs. Callaghan, of Hamilton, and seconded on behalf of Toronto council, by Mrs. Willoughby Cummins. After a lengthy discussion it was carried, 84 to 42.

Where Was A. T. McLean

LETHBRIDGE, June 19.—At a mass meeting of the farmers of the Commerce district held last night, a strongly-worded resolution was dispatched to Premier Stewart, urging the provincial government to take immediate action in starting work on the Lethbridge Northern Irrigation, and act in co-operation with the Dominion government in accepting the financial aid offered.

Strong feelings were expressed at the absence of Hon. A. J. McLean at the meeting in that he had been tendered an invitation to attend and it was known that he was in Lethbridge where he arrived in the afternoon. The meeting was held in a portion of his constituency and the following resolution was unanimously adopted: "Knowing that Mr. McLean, member for Taber district is in Lethbridge and knows of this meeting which was called to see what the government would do to help this district, therefore be it resolved that the meeting

The Farmers Government

The success of the United Farmers of Ontario at the last election surprised themselves and everyone else. But as the responsibility of government plainly rested upon them as the strongest party in the Legislature they wisely accepted the fact, formed a union with the Labor party, and set out to give Ontario as good a government as she had ever had. But the Premier and his Cabinet found that things looked a little different in Queen's Park to what they did at home, and very wisely Premier Drury chose rather to be right than to be consistent. The "Farmer's Sun" and the U.F.O. Executive still sounded the old war cries, but the Government wisely refused to listen. To some this seems like a betrayal of principle, but to others it is seen in its true light as the immediate effect of clearer vision. Take, for instance, the bitterly opposed Superannuation Act. To the man on the farm it seems clear that if there is no superannuation for him there should be none for Government employees. But the farmer is really an employer, not an employee, and employers are not pensioned either in city or country. But railways, banks, big corporations, and in some cases small ones, and even private individuals feel a special obligation to old and trusted servants, and the pension in such cases seems natural and right. No doubt Premier Drury took this view, and the fact that only ten men in the Legislature opposed it should convince most men that it was at least the popular view. The first session of the Legislature is over, and on every hand the Premier and his Government have been commended for the wisdom, courage and sanity which have marked their course. The Farmer-Labor Government has made good, and we feel that throughout Ontario generally there is a conviction that the new Government will undoubtedly prove to be a most progressive and wise one. But it will be well for the U.F.O. to remember that the Government can succeed only in proportion as it represents the whole country. It is true it is a Farmer-Labor Government; but it is vastly more than that, and we trust that it will remain so.—Christian Guardian.

DOES SOUTHERN ALBERTA AMOUNT TO A "HILL OF BEANS"?

At the meeting of the farmers held last Saturday to discuss the conditions obtaining in this district one of the speakers is reported to have said that he had met an official of the Department of Agriculture, Edmonton, during the past few days and they were discussing the serious conditions prevailing in certain sections in Southern Alberta, when this official passed the remark that "Compared with the rest of the province, this section did not amount to a hill of beans anyway." If this is the attitude of the provincial government toward the southern portion of the province it is clear why the bonds of the Lethbridge Northern Irrigation project were not fully guaranteed. Southern Alberta may not amount to a "hill of beans" to some well paid government official receiving public money for shooting off a lot of hot air, but it does mean a whole lot to hundreds of farmers who have invested their all in land and stock in this country and who want to stay with it. As President Wood, of the U.F.A., said, last week, many farmers must receive assistance from the government to enable them to either "stay on" the land or "get off." But there is no need to get off. It has been demonstrated what the land can produce under irrigation. What is being done in one place can be repeated in another under similar conditions, and the farmer has a right to ask that these conditions be made possible wherever practicable. These men are now right up against it because of conditions over which they have no control, and they are not asking for charity, they are asking, and they have a right to ask, for assistance from the government that will enable them to meet these adverse conditions, and to remain on their farms.

The man who made the statement that this country does "not amount to a hill of beans," simply does not know what he is talking about and is at least unwise, if not an outright fool, and ought to be fired, especially from the Department of Agriculture where the average man would expect a little sympathy for the farmer.

Mounties Leave for Banff

A little after ten o'clock this morning a detachment of about 70 men and their transport wagons, under the command of Superintendent Major R. Y. Douglas, left the Mounted Police Barracks on their way to Banff, where they are to camp for the summer. We understand that another detachment will leave in a few days. The "boys" have been with us all winter and have done much to promote the social life of the town, and their presence will surely be missed. We heartily wish them a good time at Banff and will look forward to their return to Macleod when camp breaks up.

Be Careful

Don't make any other engagement for Monday evening next, for on that date your old friend, Peck's Bad Boy, appears at the Empress Theatre, and of course you can't afford to miss it. You have never missed a performance since you were seven, and now that you are older grown, the appeal of youth is stronger than ever. And the children—their hearts will break if they don't see this mischievous, freckled faced old friend. He is as young as ever and just as full of fun.

ALLENFIELD NEWS

There was a large attendance at the meeting of the U.F.W.A. held at the home of Mrs. W. Davis last Wednesday, when an interesting and profitable time was spent by all. A pleasant feature of the meeting consisted of a shower of baby clothes in honor of Mrs. A. Burbridge's baby girl, quite a number of pretty and useful articles being contributed and baby Burbridge seemed to enjoy the proceedings immensely. The next meet will be held on June 30 at the home of Mrs. John Edgar.

Mrs. C. Brewster sang a solo, with her usual sweet effect.

Rev. W. A. Lewis, B.A., of Macleod, spoke on the "Spiritual Forces of the U.F.A."

The Macleod Hospital benefitted by the offering to the extent of $13.

Harding and the Peace Treaty

WASHINGTON, June 18.—President Wilson's challenge to submit the peace treaty to a referendum of the American people was accepted today by Senator Harding, the Republican presidential candidate.

"I am sure," said Senator Harding, "the Republican party will gladly welcome a referendum on the question of the foreign relationship of this republic, and the Republican attitude of preserved nationality will be overwhelmingly endorsed."

Senator Harding's statement was in reply to the interview with President Wilson, published today, in which the president discussed the League of Nations issue and the Republican platform.

Herbert Hoover, whose name was voted on to the last at the Republican convention, had breakfast with Senator Harding, at the senator's invitation.

Mr. Hoover today announced formally that he will support the ticket nominated by the national convention—Calgary Herald.

Where You Can Fish

Arthur Young, the fishing officer for Macleod, informs us that the following rivers and streams are affected by the new regulations: Middle Fork, or more properly the Crow's Nest River, is not open for fishing, while the main stream of the Castle River or the South Fork is open for fishing inside the forest reserve only. The main stream of the Old Man river, including what was formerly known as the North Fork is open for fishing both outside and inside the Forest Reserve.

A snarl of rage from the crowd of lumbermen in the cote dorion, lamps shattering into darkness, the sickening sound of blows, a sudden quiet. Whispered counsellings followed then the tramp of feet and splash. In the river, living or dead, floated Charley Steele, wit, dandy, uncannily brilliant lawyer with the world at his feet. Was this his end: a low barroom brawl over a cheap woman? For this and equally stirring moments see Bert Lytell in "The Right of Way," the greatest of Sir Gilbert Parker's novels, produced splendidly on the screen. It plays Tuesday next at the Empress Theatre.

Oh Skinny!

Oh Skinny, did you hear about it? Peck's Bad Boy is a comin'. Sure he is; don't I know? Didn't I see 'em postin' up the bills? And oh he's got a goat an' everything. And Grocer Schultz, Policeman Duffy, an' a lot of girls and people. Can you go with me Skinny? Gee! I'll bet it's a great show. My Ma read me the book once, an' I luffed 'till I cried. I'd rather hear her read Peck's Bad Boy than go swimmin' or fishin' or anything. An'

say Skinny they have apples, an' oranges, an' candy an' everything in the grocery store. Sure they have a reg'lar grocery store right on the stage, and say Skinny maybe they'll give us some of the apples or candy. He's comin' to the Empress Theatre on Monday next, sure, I know, I read the bills. Run home quick Skinny and ask your Ma if you can go with me.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Don't forget the G.W.V.A. sports on Dominion Day, July 1st.

Mrs. Malcom Mackenzie will not receive again this season.

Mrs. (Rev.) J. Kennedy will not receive again this season.

Mrs. M. E. Lazerte will receive on Friday next for the last time this season.

Commissioner Eadie, of the Salvation Army, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. E. Gardiner during his visit to Macleod.

Watch for an announcement concerning the visit of Mrs. Nellie McClung, who is expected to visit Macleod on July 7th.

In connection with the fire at the power house on Tuesday much valuable service was rendered by the Mounted Police, especially Corpl. Anderson, who we understand was at one time a member of the Montreal Fire Brigade.

"Out of my sight! You're as guilty as hell!" These were the contemptuous words the attorney shot at the man he had just cleared of a murder charge. Why? Yet had you known the attorney—Charley Steele, dashing, impeccable in his dress, possessed at once of a compelling magnetism and charm and maddening superciliousness—you might have expected it. He is the principal character in the Metro picture, "The Right of Way," from Sir Gilbert Parker's great novel. Bert Lytell is the star—Bert Lytell at his best. See the picture next Tuesday at the Empress Theatre.

Waterton News

In the month of June, 1919, a meeting was held in the Waterton School house in the interests of irrigation for the district. At this meeting subscriptions were taken in aid of the project and as no statement of this money has ever been given, the treasurer who was acting at the time, furnishes the following for the benefit of those who contributed to the fund. It will be remembered that at the time 75 per cent of each subscription was forwarded to the Irrigation Development Ass'n at Lethbridge, which was working in the interests of all Southern Alberta, and the remaining 25 per cent kept for local requirement, but the sending of money away has been discontinued. Receipts—

26 subscriptions, $2 each	$52.00
Disbursements—
Forwarded to Lethbridge	$34.50
Postage, 90c, telephoning 50c	1.40
Expense of delegate to Lethbridge	1.10
Share of expense re mass meeting in Macleod	2.00
Balance paid to Sec'y of Macleod Ass'n and used by delegates in trip to Calgary	13.00
	$52.00

Owing to the provisions of the new Irrigation Act, which are difficult to comply with, the work of forming the Macleod South Irrigation District has been temporarily delayed, but the members of the committee have not relaxed their efforts and it is hoped that the formation of the district will be completed within the next few weeks.

S. A. Chief Visits Macleod

Macleod was favored with a visit from Commissioner Eadie, the chief of the Salvation Army in Western Canada, who with his staff, arrived on Tuesday from Lethbridge. A public meeting was held in the Methodist Church in the evening when the chair was taken by J. W. McDonald, K.C. In introducing the Commissioner Mr. McDonald said that he had known a good deal of the work of the Salvation Army both in his home city of Toronto and since he had come out west. And it is the practical work that the Army is doing that always appealed to him, and this practical work was the secret of the Army's success. He was pleased also with the evangelical character of the Army's message. Philosophy has the tendency to make agnostics of us all and he found a tendency to agnosticism but the evangelical message of the Salvation Army was an antidote to this, and this is the note that found a response in all our hearts.

Commissioner Eadie in a splendid address jockingly referred to the Scotch ancestry of the chairman himself and others upon the platform. He himself came from a long line of Presbyterian ancestors and his father was an elder in the Established Church—but he had given himself to the service of the Salvation Army and had continued in that service for thirty-eight years in England, Canada, the United States, South Africa, and now again in Canada. In 1865 there was no Salvation Army, but in July 5th of that year, Catharine and William Booth betook themselves to the poor and outcast gathered on Mile End Waste in old London, and without patronage, without prestige, and without any influence of any of the high and mighty they started a movement that now operates in 69 countries and in 48 languages. After referring to his experiences in South Africa, the Commissioner went on to say that a new conception of religion has come over the world since he was a boy. In those days the main idea that dominated religion was that of worship, but now a new note has been struck, and that is that religion to be of any value must express itself in service, service to all men of all races in all conditions. We hear much these days of internationalism—the Salvation Army officer is a true internationalist. Jesus Christ was an internationalist. He was for the world.

During the evening two excellent solos were rendered by Capt. Mundy who sang to a concertina accompaniment.

On the platform with the commissioner were Major Alice Godwin, the chief of the Salvation Army forces in Southern Alberta; Brigadier Phillips of the training school; Capt. Evans, of the local corp; Revs. J. Kennedy and W. A. Lewis; and R. J. E. Gardiner.

Calgary Exhibition

King Gasoline will reign supreme at the Calgary Exhibition, as several of the biggest features depend upon the use of "gas" and "oil" to attain success. On Friday and Saturday, July 2 and 3, championship automobile races will be staged in which such noted Mercurian monarch as Sig. Haugdahl, dirt track champion; Louis Disbrow, former world's champion; R. Burr Lampkin, of England, and others will battle for five thousand dollars in prize money.

Auto Polo, the most dangerous and exciting of all present day sports, will be a daily feature, while on four days, June 27, 28, 29 and 30, Lieut. Ormer Locklear will change planes in mid-air. Locklear has only presented his feat in some of the largest cities, and his is the most talked of aviation stunt since the birth of the aeroplane.

The entries which have been received indicate that the exhibits in all departments will be the best ever seen in Calgary. The live stock exhibits, particularly, promise to be of a very high class.

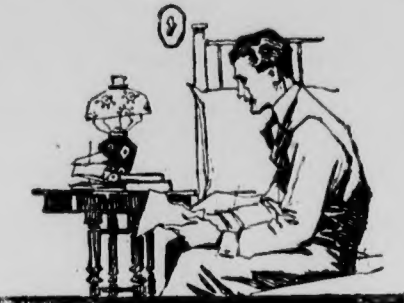

Touring motorists will welcome the news that the Calgary automobile camp will be situated just one block south of the Exhibition Grounds on the bank of the Elbow river, with caretaker in charge. A splendid opportunity to spend a delightful week camping out and at the same time enjoy the Calgary Exhibition is provided by the Calgary Auto Club, under whose auspices the camp is conducted.

For the convenience of those who are coming from out of town to attend the Exhibition and do not wish to take advantage of the camp, an accommodation bureau will be conducted at the C.P.R. depot, Calgary, to assist them in getting rooms.

Residents out of town who are thinking of attending the Calgary Exhibition, June 26 to July 3, should inquire of their station agent regarding special passenger rates.

Your Finances

The Man who Saves

At age 19 his bills exceed his income.

At age 21 his Canada Life Policy creates a gap between income and expenditure.

At age 35 his "bills" include a "premium due" which checks extravagance.

At age 50 he can "afford" anything in reason.

At age 60 he has no anxiety for the future, and leisure for his many interests.

A man who sets aside only $200 each six months and allows it to compound at 5½% interest will have at the end of thirty years a total fund of—

Thirty Thousand Dollars

You know many people who could set aside $200 each six months. But—

Many a man who has had time to accumulate this moderate fortune, is still "drudging along" without it. For this reason:

Very few men will systematically "put by" a certain definite sum, and leave it untouched for any reasonable length of time. Human nature is seldom built that way.

The Canada Life Plan

Our insurance policies will provide any sum you name, to be delivered to you in cash at any age you desire, or to your Beneficiary should you die in the meantime.

You can thus anticipate the years, capitalize your present health and earning power, and make certain of many years' progress now.

The Endowment at 65

issued by the Canada Life will solve the problem of your Future.

It is a Certainty

The full amount of your Policy will be paid in any case, whether you live or die. Other investments may depreciate in value or fail. The Endowment is a certainty. The guarantee will take care of your home, or your business, or your personal interests, as nothing else can.

Profits Will Hasten Maturity

A special clause in this Policy provides that if the profits be allowed to remain at your credit each year instead of being withdrawn, the face of the Policy will be payable to you some years before you reach age 65.

Whatever your circumstances may be later on in life, you will welcome this fund of a few thousand dollars. You may need it then.

BRINGING VALUES OUT OF THE ORDINARY IN DAINTY UNDERMUSLINS

We expect a lot of our patrons not only to supply their present day and summer needs but even anticipate their early fall requirements because the values in this selling are of such a noteworthy nature. Assortments are complete and styles exceptionally pretty.

Philippine Underthings

The tiny Filipino women are unusually adept in the art of hand embroidery as well as in the making of fine seams and here are night dresses and corset covers showing their fine handiwork at its best.

$3.75 Each

Domestic Undergarments

Practicability is one of the most interesting features about them though the attractive ways they are styled are well worth considering. Dainty lace and embroidery trimmings accent the beauty of their lovely soft fabrics, but in the prices you will find the most pleasant surprises of all.

$2.50 to $4.75

Billie Burkes of flesh tinted Batiste are very special at $4.75.

It isn't often that a double panelled petticoat can be bought as reasonably as this, $2.00.
